

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

INTERESTING FROM WASHINGTON.

MOVEMENTS OF THE POLITICIANS.

The Land Distribution Bill Passed by the House of Representatives.

LATE FROM HAVANA AND SANTA FE,

&c., &c., &c.

From Washington City.

GEN. SCOTT'S REPORT AT THE COURSE OF NEW YORK.—THE COMING RATIFICATION MEETING—THE COLLINS SPEAKERS—MR. BENNETT'S LAND BILL—FOR PRINTING, ETC.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE NEW YORK HERALD.

WASHINGTON, June 26—8 P. M.

The course pursued by the Tribune and Times has, I understand, caused deep regret to General Scott. He declares that he accepted the nomination and the platform of principles at the same time and that no effort on his part shall be spared to honestly carry out those principles and nationalize the wing party.

The whig ratification meeting here on Monday evening promises to be a grand affair. The Southern men are rapidly coming into line.

The column appropriation, gaining friends daily, despite the efforts of the Central company, who have sent agents here to prejudge it. But this movement of the Central people has affected itself and made the nationality of the Central cause stand aside.

Mr. Bennett's bill will pass the Senate, if its friends in the House will now cease to offer further opposition to the Senate railroad bill. The only advantage in passing the latter is that they designate the names of the several roads, but do not call for any additional appropriation of land over that already granted in Bennett's bill.

The Printing Committee of Congress have rejected all the copies of the President's Message, with the exception of eight for each member on the ground of the irreverence in which the printing has been executed.

The Whig Nominations—Messrs. Toombs and Stephens.

CHARLESTON, June 25—1832.

Messrs. Toombs and Stephens have telegraphed to the press of Georgia that they are opposed to the nomination of Scott, and in favor of the re-assembling of the Union Convention, by whose decision they will abide. Mr. Jenkins' position is said to be the same.

Call for a Union Convention in Georgia.

MACON, Ga., June 24, 1832.

The Messenger of Wednesday published an official call for the re-assembling of the Union Convention at Maconville, Georgia, on the 15th of July, in pursuance of a resolution providing for such second meeting passed by the late Union Convention.

The Savannah Evening News and Republics both bolt the nomination of Scott, and call for the nomination of a third candidate by the Union party.

Whig Ratification Meeting at Auburn.

AUBURN, June 23, 1832.

An enthusiastic whig ratification meeting was held at the Court House last evening, in this city. Hon. B. F. Hall presiding. The room was filled to overflowing.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the nominees and the platform.

The Hon. Christopher Morgan addressed the meeting, speaking with much feeling upon the life of Henry Clay and his son expected election.

Mr. Morgan was followed by M. L. Bell, Esq., editor of the Ohio State Journal, also by T. M. Pomeroy, editor of the Newark Advocate, and A. Edward, Esq., of this city.

The meeting adjourned with nine hearty cheers for Scott and Graham.

Whig Ratification at Worcester, Mass.

WORCESTER, June 26, 1832.

A whig ratification meeting was held at the Court House last evening, in this city. Hon. B. F. Hall presiding. The room was filled to overflowing.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the nominees and the platform.

The Hon. Christopher Morgan addressed the meeting, speaking with much feeling upon the life of Henry Clay and his son expected election.

Mr. Morgan was followed by M. L. Bell, Esq., editor of the Ohio State Journal, also by T. M. Pomeroy, editor of the Newark Advocate, and A. Edward, Esq., of this city.

The meeting adjourned with nine hearty cheers for Scott and Graham.

Whig Ratification at Worcester, Mass.

WORCESTER, June 26, 1832.

The Catholic Mirror, of this week, copies from a letter from General Pierce, addressed to a gentleman in this city, a paragraph in relation to his having aided in the religious test in the New Hampshire constitution. He says—no man can be more groundless, and that if the failed not has not already received its appropriate brand. It will be referred to the Court of Appeals, but an effort will be made to repeal the law.

The Official State Paper.

DECISION OF THE SUPREME COURT.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE NEW YORK HERALD.

ALBANY, June 26, 1832.

In the Supreme Court, Judges Wright, Harris and Parker have decided that the Argus is the State paper. Some two months since, the Secretary of State and Comptroller awarded the publication of legal notices to the Argus. The Court was appealed to for an opinion and they have decided that the authority of the State officers, under the fourth section of the law of 1826, could be exercised for only a short time, before the award of the paper to the Argus. Mr. Gould was a man of great influence.

Mr. Gould was followed by M. L. Bell, Esq., editor of the Ohio State Journal, also by T. M. Pomeroy, editor of the Newark Advocate, and A. Edward, Esq., of this city.

The meeting adjourned with nine hearty cheers for Scott and Graham.

Whig Ratification at Worcester, Mass.

WORCESTER, June 26, 1832.

The Whig ratification meeting was held at the Court House last evening, in this city. Hon. B. F. Hall presiding. The room was filled to overflowing.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the nominees and the platform.

The Hon. Christopher Morgan addressed the meeting, speaking with much feeling upon the life of Henry Clay and his son expected election.

Mr. Morgan was followed by M. L. Bell, Esq., editor of the Ohio State Journal, also by T. M. Pomeroy, editor of the Newark Advocate, and A. Edward, Esq., of this city.

The meeting adjourned with nine hearty cheers for Scott and Graham.

Whig Ratification at Worcester, Mass.

WORCESTER, June 26, 1832.

The Whig ratification meeting was held at the Court House last evening, in this city. Hon. B. F. Hall presiding. The room was filled to overflowing.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the nominees and the platform.

The Hon. Christopher Morgan addressed the meeting, speaking with much feeling upon the life of Henry Clay and his son expected election.

Mr. Morgan was followed by M. L. Bell, Esq., editor of the Ohio State Journal, also by T. M. Pomeroy, editor of the Newark Advocate, and A. Edward, Esq., of this city.

The meeting adjourned with nine hearty cheers for Scott and Graham.

Whig Ratification at Worcester, Mass.

WORCESTER, June 26, 1832.

The Whig ratification meeting was held at the Court House last evening, in this city. Hon. B. F. Hall presiding. The room was filled to overflowing.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the nominees and the platform.

The Hon. Christopher Morgan addressed the meeting, speaking with much feeling upon the life of Henry Clay and his son expected election.

Mr. Morgan was followed by M. L. Bell, Esq., editor of the Ohio State Journal, also by T. M. Pomeroy, editor of the Newark Advocate, and A. Edward, Esq., of this city.

The meeting adjourned with nine hearty cheers for Scott and Graham.

Whig Ratification at Worcester, Mass.

WORCESTER, June 26, 1832.

The Whig ratification meeting was held at the Court House last evening, in this city. Hon. B. F. Hall presiding. The room was filled to overflowing.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the nominees and the platform.

The Hon. Christopher Morgan addressed the meeting, speaking with much feeling upon the life of Henry Clay and his son expected election.

Mr. Morgan was followed by M. L. Bell, Esq., editor of the Ohio State Journal, also by T. M. Pomeroy, editor of the Newark Advocate, and A. Edward, Esq., of this city.

The meeting adjourned with nine hearty cheers for Scott and Graham.

Whig Ratification at Worcester, Mass.

WORCESTER, June 26, 1832.

The Whig ratification meeting was held at the Court House last evening, in this city. Hon. B. F. Hall presiding. The room was filled to overflowing.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the nominees and the platform.

The Hon. Christopher Morgan addressed the meeting, speaking with much feeling upon the life of Henry Clay and his son expected election.

Mr. Morgan was followed by M. L. Bell, Esq., editor of the Ohio State Journal, also by T. M. Pomeroy, editor of the Newark Advocate, and A. Edward, Esq., of this city.

The meeting adjourned with nine hearty cheers for Scott and Graham.

Whig Ratification at Worcester, Mass.

WORCESTER, June 26, 1832.

The Whig ratification meeting was held at the Court House last evening, in this city. Hon. B. F. Hall presiding. The room was filled to overflowing.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the nominees and the platform.

The Hon. Christopher Morgan addressed the meeting, speaking with much feeling upon the life of Henry Clay and his son expected election.

Mr. Morgan was followed by M. L. Bell, Esq., editor of the Ohio State Journal, also by T. M. Pomeroy, editor of the Newark Advocate, and A. Edward, Esq., of this city.

The meeting adjourned with nine hearty cheers for Scott and Graham.

Whig Ratification at Worcester, Mass.

WORCESTER, June 26, 1832.

The Whig ratification meeting was held at the Court House last evening, in this city. Hon. B. F. Hall presiding. The room was filled to overflowing.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the nominees and the platform.

The Hon. Christopher Morgan addressed the meeting, speaking with much feeling upon the life of Henry Clay and his son expected election.

Mr. Morgan was followed by M. L. Bell, Esq., editor of the Ohio State Journal, also by T. M. Pomeroy, editor of the Newark Advocate, and A. Edward, Esq., of this city.

The meeting adjourned with nine hearty cheers for Scott and Graham.

Whig Ratification at Worcester, Mass.

WORCESTER, June 26, 1832.

The Whig ratification meeting was held at the Court House last evening, in this city. Hon. B. F. Hall presiding. The room was filled to overflowing.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the nominees and the platform.

The Hon. Christopher Morgan addressed the meeting, speaking with much feeling upon the life of Henry Clay and his son expected election.

Mr. Morgan was followed by M. L. Bell, Esq., editor of the Ohio State Journal, also by T. M. Pomeroy, editor of the Newark Advocate, and A. Edward, Esq., of this city.

The meeting adjourned with nine hearty cheers for Scott and Graham.

Whig Ratification at Worcester, Mass.

WORCESTER, June 26, 1832.

The Whig ratification meeting was held at the Court House last evening, in this city. Hon. B. F. Hall presiding. The room was filled to overflowing.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the nominees and the platform.

The Hon. Christopher Morgan addressed the meeting, speaking with much feeling upon the life of Henry Clay and his son expected election.

Mr. Morgan was followed by M. L. Bell, Esq., editor of the Ohio State Journal, also by T. M. Pomeroy, editor of the Newark Advocate, and A. Edward, Esq., of this city.

The meeting adjourned with nine hearty cheers for Scott and Graham.

Whig Ratification at Worcester, Mass.

WORCESTER, June 26, 1832.

The Whig ratification meeting was held at the Court House last evening, in this city. Hon. B. F. Hall presiding. The room was filled to overflowing.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the nominees and the platform.

The Hon. Christopher Morgan addressed the meeting, speaking with much feeling upon the life of Henry Clay and his son expected election.

Mr. Morgan was followed by M. L. Bell, Esq., editor of the Ohio State Journal, also by T. M. Pomeroy, editor of the Newark Advocate, and A. Edward, Esq., of this city.

The meeting adjourned with nine hearty cheers for Scott and Graham.

Whig Ratification at Worcester, Mass.

WORCESTER, June 26, 1832.

The Whig ratification meeting was held at the Court House last evening, in this city. Hon. B. F. Hall presiding. The room was filled to overflowing.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the nominees and the platform.

The Hon. Christopher Morgan addressed the meeting, speaking with much feeling upon the life of Henry Clay and his son expected election.

Mr. Morgan was followed by M. L. Bell, Esq., editor of the Ohio State Journal, also by T. M. Pomeroy, editor of the Newark Advocate, and A. Edward, Esq., of this city.

The meeting adjourned with nine hearty cheers for Scott and Graham.

Whig Ratification at Worcester, Mass.

WORCESTER, June 26, 1832.

The Whig ratification meeting was held at the Court House last evening, in this city. Hon. B. F. Hall presiding. The room was filled to overflowing.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the nominees and the platform.

The Hon. Christopher Morgan addressed the meeting, speaking with much feeling upon the life of Henry Clay and his son expected election.

Mr. Morgan was followed by M. L. Bell, Esq., editor of the Ohio State Journal, also by T. M. Pomeroy, editor of the Newark Advocate, and A. Edward, Esq., of this city.

The meeting adjourned with nine hearty cheers for Scott and Graham.

Whig Ratification at Worcester, Mass.

WORCESTER, June 26, 1832.

The Whig ratification meeting was held at the Court House last evening, in this city. Hon. B. F. Hall presiding. The room was filled to overflowing.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the nominees and the platform.

The Hon. Christopher Morgan addressed the meeting, speaking with much feeling upon the life of Henry Clay and his son expected election.

Mr. Morgan was followed by M. L. Bell, Esq., editor of the Ohio State Journal, also by T. M. P